

Talking Trash Book Club

Help Raleigh celebrate the 25th anniversary of its curbside recycling program with the launch of the “Talking Trash” book club sponsored by the City of Raleigh Solid Waste Services Department. This book club will explore a variety of topics, from how the foods we eat and fashions we wear impact our environment long after we use them, to who profits and who loses in waste management practices. For more information, please visit www.raleighnc.gov keyword: talking trash.
