

HUMAN RELATIONS AWARDS

Since 1989 the Human Relations Commission of the City of Raleigh has presented Human Relations Awards to individuals, businesses, and organizations in recognition of their contributions to the improvement of the quality of life in the communities of our City. These contributions have been diverse, and have included involvement in special programs, addressing critical social issues, and devoting time, energy and commitment to make a positive difference. In short, to help to effect real change and give hope for the future.

Do you know a person, business or non profit organization or youth you feel should be the recipient of the Human Relations Award? A nomination form is attached - please complete it and return it to us by January 11, 2010. The awards will be presented at the Annual Human Relations Awards Banquet to be held on February 11, 2010.

We look forward to hearing your suggestions. You may also fax your nomination to 831-6123.

Sincerely,

Virginia Tally
Chair, Human Relations Commission Banquet/Events Committee
