RE: Dredging of Lower Longview Lake

Dear Resident,

Following the last Public Meeting held on Monday, September 22, 2014, at the Lions Park Community Center relating to the rehabilitation of the dam of the Lower Longview Lake, Stormwater staff shared the results of the lake dredging evaluation performed by consulting firm CDM Smith with the City Council. The staff recommendation to Council was, as recommended by the study, that no dredging of the lake was warranted at this time. The Council requested that Stormwater staff provide additional information before reconsideration of the matter at a later date.

The Stormwater Management Division has complied with the Council request and an additional review of the study has now been completed by CDM Smith (Copy of which is posted on City's website). We consequently would like to inform all Longview Lake residents that the Stormwater staff intends to (tentatively) present this additional information to Council at its next scheduled meeting on Tuesday February 3rd, 2015 at 1:00 pm in Council Chambers (Raleigh Municipal Building at 222 W. Hargett St, second floor).

The rehabilitation of the dam project is currently planned for bid advertisement in the spring with tentative start of construction in the summer of 2015, assuming that all required easements are approved.

Copies of both this letter and CDM Smith's additional review (dated Dec. 10, 2014) have been posted on the City's website; see below for link to website:
